

Completing the census questionnaire is easy.

The Census questionnaire takes 10 minutes or less to complete and only asks for basic information about you and your family like name, age, gender, and race. These 10 minutes can mean so much for our communities.

We know for a fact that our population is severely undercounted. We make up more than the reported 2% or 5.6 million people in the U.S. This undercount means we are underfunded and misrepresented, but we can start to change that now.

When you complete the census, you are contributing to better data for Native people and elevating our opportunities for key funding for housing, education, healthcare, transportation, and many others. You can complete the census now online, over the phone, or by mail.

Visit wecount.uihi.org/#how to learn more.

Completing the census is...

Easy

It takes only 10 minutes to complete the census.

Safe

Your information is confidential and protected by law.

Impactful

You can help shape the future of Native communities.

We Count

Ensuring urban Indians are represented in the 2020 census

Follow the conversation and share your story
#WeCount #WeAreHere #2020Census

Urban Indian Health Institute

A Division of the Seattle Indian Health Board
Funding for this project is provided through the National Urban Indian Family Coalition